3BM sells vanilla to further develop technology for learning the Biblical languages Hebrew and Greek and to produce resources for the interpretation of the Bible and understanding its background.

We engage in vanilla-trade, because this precious spice is the oldest spice ever to have been found in an archaeological excavation. Traces of vanilla has recently been found in a jar from a Bronze Age tomb in Megiddo dating back to around 1600 BC (Click HERE). Already the Canaanites used vanilla in their burial rites.

3BM communicates background on the Bible and its world. Now this old spice will help improve education about the Bible, the most significant work to come out of the Ancient Near East. The best quality comes out of Madagascar, where we in 2011 started testing Bible Online Learner to enhance learning of Hebrew. Now this ancient and precious gourmet spice will support education in the most important book in the world all over the world.

All surplus from our vanilla sales will be used for development of projects for the Global Learning Initiative (Click HER). If you want to sell in your church, fellowship, community, or fellowship or use it for Christmas gift you can contact Jens Bruun Kofoed (by mail or by phone) or Nicolai Winther-Nielsen.

Our vanilla was delivered by Christy Trade Madagascar December 6 and sales started few hours later.

3BM owner, Jens Bruun Kofoed, is marketing our products for colleagues at FIUC-DK.
